1. Chinese Communist troops in South Sinkiang have no tanks or airplanes, but are equipped with rifles and three-inch mortars. They are well disciplined and in good condition. Rations, ammunition and military stores are received [REDACTED] from the U.S.S.R. *
2. The Chinese troops stationed in Sinkiang use systematic, disciplined violence for political reasons [REDACTED]
3. [REDACTED]
4. [REDACTED]
5. Trade in Sinkiang is being nationalized, and it is planned to nationalize the land. Sinkiang supplies wool, cotton and leather to the U.S.S.R., and in return receives kerosene, gasoline and old fish-plates from the U.S.S.R. ****
6. Almost all food in Sinkiang is being sent via Kashgar to the U.S.S.R. by Russian trucks. Even the farmers have little food, and there is acute distress in the cities. Nevertheless, there is no active rebellion in Sinkiang.
7. Russians are working in each Sinkiang government department. The chief adviser is Amonoff. ****
8. The Communists in Sinkiang spread anti-Pakistan, anti-British and anti-American propaganda, but because of the dislike of the Turki population for the Communist government, the propaganda has little effect.
